

The count decided to join the fight against the horror. He ate and layed down on the golden bed to sleep. About midnight he woke up, he heard someone climb the stairs and he heard a terrible rumble in the chains. A black man appeared, with one eye in the middle of his forehead, and she shone so brightly that the whole room shone. And his body was covered with dense hair.

The count jumped as soon as he saw him and shook his head in one accent. Another monster managed to say that the count could kiss that deer with the gold collar. Then the count layed down again and slept until morning.

When he awoke, he got up and went down the stairs to the yard. Here he sees again the seven deers that she brought to this castle yesterday. He came and kissed the greatest. In an instant, seven girls in white clothes will stand in front of him, and the most beautiful one will wear a gold collar. The beauty thanked the count and said: she is the queen of this country, she and her companions have been turned into deers by an ugly giant. They had already brought many to this castle, but no one was able to liberate them. The queen is married to her savior and, if she has not died, and still alive happy so far.
